STOPPING IN SOON...

Making sure your family is protected and reducing your losses is important – that is why a member of the Fairmont Farmers Mutual Loss Control team will visit your home or farm in the near future to conduct a safety and property survey.

The visit will include taking photos, checking building dimensions and gathering other pertinent information regarding your insurance policy. Due to unforeseen events, we may need to delay our visit until the following year. In this instance, a new postcard will be mailed prior to inspection. We will be happy to answer any of your questions about our loss control process.
